“ Many memories of Daniel. One of the most heart touching was the day after his baby girl was born & was moved from the nursery to the NICU. Chasity & he were overcome with tears & could barely speak to tell me what was wrong for crying so hard. No matter how aggravated I got at him, he always had a way of getting into my heart. Quicker than most anyone I know. Just his random acts of helpfulness & always his "be careful" as we drove away. Showed me much respect with no use of foul language. Not saying we didn't have our trials but he was just someone that if you truly knew him, you simply could not stay mad for long. I remember the smile as he spoke of how Nana spoiled his girl & the pride when he said "she will be smarter than me by the time she is five or so.". His love for his Mom & his Mamaw always was known. I saw his tears on more than one occasion & they weren't tears of weakness...just tears that flowed because of his heart. We will always remember you Daniel. Thanks for the greatest gift of all.....our Mady.
