“ One of God's very few, very special people. Anyone that was privileged to have known him was a better person for it. He had that way about him.
Our many conversations during haircuts are not forgotten by me, and I so much looked forward to seeing him every few weeks.
Hope they put up th duck crossing sign just in Glenn's honor.

One of those rare perfect people. Absolutely without a flaw. I have thought of him often over the years, and will never forget any of our many conversations. God blessed the world with Glen.

“Glen was such a kind, considerate person, well respected and loved in his community. I will never forget how he fed the firehouse dog, all the cats in Warfield, and any ducks and geese passing through. A pure heart of gold stopped beating Monday, and now he will walk on streets of gold. R.I.P. my friend. We will meet again. Love in Christ, Rosemary

Yes, that about his feeding the animals brought back memories. He worried about the ducks crossing the road, and we joked there needed to be a duck crossing sign.

Mr. Glenn Copley was a wonderful, good and kind man. When I was a kid growing up at Warfield I hung around his Gulf Station and he was so good to me, as was his wonderful wife. When I became a teenager, I worked Sats for him as a car washer. I have often said that Glenn taught me the objective of perfection and he did so by inspecting many of the cars after my car wash buddy, Ronnie Chaffins, and I had finished and he often found something that we had missed. He taught me well. Later, after I became a lawyer, I had the privilege of doing some legal things for the man I so highly considered. Beth and Bruce, I have not seen you in a long time but let me say this: with such wonderful parents as yours, it is no wonder that you became successful like you are.

Glenn will certainly be missed in the community...he was a kind and well respected man, whom we all loved. He captured many moments of years gone by with his camera and shared them at our class reunions for us to enjoy. RIP Glenn.
