“ I'm deeply saddened yet again. Another of my good ole buddies is no longer with us. I have so many special memories made with the guys from the "Liars Club" as they used to call it. I made a room full of friends when I first walked into their little building one night and told them I was there to crash their man party. Great men, all of them. They carved a place in my heart that will always be there. Rest in peace Lewis, you will be greatly missed.
