“ I miss you more every day mom and all the silly little things we fought over and all the good things we did share . I wish I could go back to the last time I talk to you on the phone we talked for almost two hours and you told me you were ready to go you knew you were leaving for heaven and I should’ve listened but I didn’t want to believe it but I know you were at peace and that eases my heart but I still miss you and love you rest easy momma I hope you got to see your mom and brother and loved ones you told me about I’ll see you again one day but until then watch over us down here

“ This doesn't seem real and like a bad dream. This woman right here helped me when I was down, she done things for me that everyone else turned their backs on. She was good to us all. I can remember growing up and in that back bedroom at mamaws you and Lisa, would have to go pick aunt Norma up from work at Rainbow Restaurant & yall would scare the heck out of me saying u all was gonna throw her over the hill. Lol i would run to papaw and cry, then you two were in big trouble. Lol those are the good days and many great memories made. You will be missed more than you know.
