

Nellie Jude Cornes

August 24, 1940 - January 14, 2025

Nellie (Jude) Cornes, 84, of Williamson, WV. passed away peacefully at Community Hospice of Ashland, Kentucky on January 14, 2025, after a courageous battle from a short illness with her daughter Pamela Granger and Son-In-Law Tim Granger, and Angelia Hardin by her side. Nellie was born on August 24, 1940 to the late Wilburn Jude and Alma Webb-Jude Sizemore of Beauty, Ky.

Nellie is preceded in death by her husband, William Lee Cornes, daughter, Debra Lynn Cornes, brothers Wilburn Jude, Jr., Roy Jude, and Don Jude.

Nellie started her career as a Social Studies teacher at Tug Valley High School in Mingo County. Nellie earned her Bachelor's Degree and her Master's Degree +30 hours from Marshall University. She retired from teaching in Volusia County, Florida where she was selected as "Teacher of the Month" at Ormond Beach Middle School. Her passion was teaching and her students.

Nellie is survived by two daughters, Angelia Marie Hardin (Charles), and Pamela Leigh Granger (Tim), two grandchildren, Ashlea Hardin Johnson (LaTorriss) and Alexis Ransom and three great-grandchildren, Lea Rose Johnson, Moana Adams, and Roman Adams. She is survived by her sister Patsy Shannon McCoy of Columbus, Ohio and brother Moses Jude of Columbus, Ohio. Darlene Hatfield was her very best friend. Angelia's significant other, Johnny Carroll, loved her very much. They loved talking politics especially Trump. Nellie was a huge Trump supporter. Her sister-in law, Dorothy Canterbury, loved Nellie very much in addition to many beloved extended families.

Nellie enjoyed many things in life, such as reading and travelling. She loved visiting Hawaii and living in Ormond by the Sea, Florida for many years. She enjoyed the beach and the ocean. She was a faithful Christian who loved Jesus Christ with all her heart. She now has a place at the table with the many relatives and friends who have passed away. She is now rejoicing the peace and love from everything heaven has to offer. Her daughter, Debra's dachshund, Tinkerbelle, was her little shadow and her grand-fur babies, Blaze Embers Granger and Christmas Snow (Chrissy) Granger and Ace Johnson. They all loved her so much.

A private family service will be conducted at a later date to be determined. Her final resting place will be at Warfield Cemetery alongside William, her husband and her daughter, Debra.

Callaham Funeral Home in Inez, Kentucky has been entrusted with the care and arrangements for Nellie. Online condolences can be made at <https://www.callahamfuneralhome.com>

“ My condolences to the family. Aunt Nell was a person who loved her family and was just fun to be around. Growing up, we saw her most during the summer months as we lived states away and we would vacation in Williamson for a few weeks. Her home was always filled with laughter and fun and we couldnt wait to cross the railroad tracks to visit with our cousins Angie, Pam and Debbie and just ‘hang out’. Aunt Nell will be forever loved and missed.
