“ Miss my cousin and friend so badly. The summers we would always play together and hunt fire flies at night. Terry loved his children and grand babies so much. He often talked about them with love . We spent the past few years together and had gotten so close. Rest Terry. I didn't want you to go, but I seen how hard you were suffering and I didn't want to see you hurt anymore. We shared a lot about life and kept each other's secrets. I love you with all my heart. There is, and always will be, a special place in my heart for you. Fly high and I know I will see you again.
